HALL'S WITNESS ON THE STAND

Admits He Got $50 "For Expenses" Before Dry Inspector's Trial

SAW OFFICERS DRINK

Colleague of Man Accused of Killing, However, Denies Imbibing Captured Whisky.

Manassas, Va., Jan. 1.—A further attempt to break down Joe Williams, chauffeur for W. C. Hall, prohibition inspector, on trial for the second time charged with the murder of Lawrence Hudson, suspected bootlegger, last March, was made yesterday morning.

F. S. Tavenner, counsel for the prosecution, after a short grilling secured the admission from Williams that he had received $50 for "expenses" before this trial. Williams declared he received a $50 check from W. G. Dunford.

"Was that not for something other than expenses?" Mr. Tavenner asked. The witness denied it.

With Hall, W. G. Dunleavy, H. F. Sweet and J. H. Sullivan are jointly charged with the murder of Hudson. They have elected separate trials. All appeared today for the defense. Sweet told of the approach and trapping of the suspected bootleggers. He said Sullivan, on March 26, went up the road from Tumbling Run bridge and waited for the car, which was seen sweeping the road with a "bootlegger's spotlight" to locate possibly dry officers. Hall and his machine were at the bridge, he said. He said he signalled Hall with a flashlight and the officer's car moved out to block the road. He said the firing started after Shackelford had fired the first shot. Hall had jumped to the running board of Shackelford's car, he said, and disappeared in the forward section. Thinking him killed, Sweet said he opened fire on the driver.

The shooting, he said, continued until the machine of the alleged bootleggers ran into an embankment. Sweet denied taking a drink from the captured whisky. He declared he had never touched it in his life.

The defense called W. G. Dunleavy, a prohibition inspector jointly indicted with Hall for the killing of Hudson, to prove that the officers did not drink any of the whisky contained in the car they held up.

A 10-year-old boy, George William Goods, testified Tuesday that he saw the prohibition officers take drinks from a bottle they passed to one another the morning after the killing. The officers were then removing the whisky from the machine to an official car. The defense presented Dunleavy in an effort to disprove this testimony. On cross-examination the witness said he occasionally took a drink.

"I'm not a teetotaler," he said in answer to a question from Mr. Tavenner. James H. Sullivan, another prohibition inspector, also a member of the party that held up Hudson and Shackelford, said he did not have a distinct recollection of what happened during the shooting. He testified he did not shoot.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Mrs. Charles Jenkins, of Newland, near Heathsville, was found in the yard at her home Tuesday, dead from burns. It is thought she had attempted to start a fire in the kitchen stove with kerosene, that her clothing had caught fiare from the blaze and that she had rushed outside for assistance. Her two children were too small to give an account of the accident, and Mr. Jenkins was away from home at the time.

For every 12 and one-third marriages in the State in 1919, there was one divorce, according to the first vital statistics issued by the State yesterday. Alexandria county furnished the largest proportion, 182 divorces being granted against 292 weddings.

A bear weighing close to 400 pounds was shot by a hunter named Hupman in the mountains near Monterey, Highland county. The bear had lived a number of years in that section and had been shot at repeatedly.

Little Aganta Patricia, the 5 year old daughter of George F. and Mrs Annette Mahoney died at the residence of her parents, Park View, near Portsmouth, as result of burns sustained from fire works on Friday. The accident, which resulted in her death, occurred as the little tot was going down the steps of her home with lighted fireworks in her hand. In some manner she tumbled and fell, igniting her clothing. She was badly burned about the arm, shoulder and face and probably inhaled some of the flames.

Robert Royer, colored, who lives three miles from Lynchburg, got up Christmas morning at 4 o'clock to start a fire so that his three children might start their Christmas pleasure. Santa Claus had arrived for the trio and everything was ready. After getting the stove started Royer discovered that the upper part of the house was ablaze. He had time only to get his family out of the house in their bed clothing when the house, all of its furnishings, the children's Christmas presents and even the money he drew the day before were burned. The man owned his home, but had no insurance.

Elliott E. Nash, son of James Nash, of Fredericksburg, was killed in an automobile accident in Spotsylvania county Monday night when the car he was driving ran into a mule team belonging to J. D. Lewis, of Margo, Spotsylvaina county. The driver of the team was uninjured, but two of the mules were killed.

TO CONTEST BERGER'S SEAT

H. H. Bodenstab Will Bring His Fight in the House

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 1.—H. H. Bodenstab, Fusion candidate for Congress in the Fifth district special election, will contest the right of Victor Berger to take his seat. Announcement of the contest was made yesterday after notice had been served on Mr. Berger in Chicago last night.

The basis of the contest is that Mr. Berger is disqualified from holding the office and that votes cast for him were void.

Mr. Bodenstab stated that his contest will be brought in the House of Representatives.

"The first basis of the proceeding is that a person who is notoriously disqualified and ineligible cannot be voted for, and that votes cast for such a person are of no effect, and that it results in effect in a negation rather than an election," said Mr. Bodenstab.

"The second basis that any person found guilty of a felony loses his right to vote, and that in this state any person who has been deprived of his right to vote also loses his right to hold office."

KILLS TO CLEAR NAME

Mrs. Kate Uhl Held for Death of Edwar Pownall

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 1.—Mrs. Kate Uhl, aged 25 years, wife of Marvin Uhl and the mother of three small children, was held this evening without bail by a coroner's jury for the killing of Edgar Bryan Pownall, aged 23, of Romney, W. Va., at the Uhl apartments here yesterday morning, when in desperation following his alleged attentions, she plunged a long thin-bladed butcher knife up to the hilt into his breast, just over the heart. He died within a half hour.

Season Ends on March 22nd, With Lyceum Meeting Dreadnoughts

ALL GAMES AT ARMORY

Good Basketball in Store For Local Fans—All Teams Strong—Will Play in Armory Hall.

The official schedule of the Alexandria City Basketball League, which follows, shows twenty four games in store for local followers of the indoor game, and from present indications, some real contests will be staged.

Tomorrow night's league contest between the Lyceum and the Dreadnought clubs has been postponed to March 22nd, but the Lyceums will play The Peck Stars from Washington. Next Monday night, the Lyceum and the Virginias meet in what promises to be a battle royal.

The 5th Engineer team from Camp Humphreys did not show any real strength Monday night, due to the fact that several of the star players were on furlough, and the fact that the men had no chance to practice. This will be remedied, however, in the near future, as Lieut. Hoass, Athletic Officer of the 5th Engineers plans to have his men work out every day. The Bridge Builders can be counted upon to have a strong team. The Dreadnoughts will also be strong, while the Virginias demonstrated Monday night that their club is fast. The Lyceums need no introduction to local fans. All games will be played at the Armory Hall, and will start at 8 o'clock.

The schedule follows:

C. vs. 5th Engineers; January 2, Lyceum, vs Dreadnoughts, (postponed); January 5, Virginia vs. Lyceum; January 9, 5th Engineers vs. Dreadnoughts; January 12, Lyceum vs 5th Engineers; January 16, Virginia vs. Dreadnoughts; January 19, 5th Engineers, vs. Virginia A. NEW YEAR QUIETLY OBSERVED HERE

Noisy Welcome Accorded Birth of New Year

WATCH SERVICES HELD

Crowd of Merrymakers Not as Great as in Former Years—Parties and Entertainments Tonight.

New Year's is being quietly observed in this city. Practically all business was suspended by the noon hour. Many receptions and parties are planned for the evening. A number of persons kept open house during the day, although the number was less than in previous years. The Master Mason's Club, King and Washington streets, kept open house, and the Loyal Order of Moose will give a New Year's entertainment tonight at 7 o'clock at the opera house for the members and their children and friends.

The usual midnight celebration of the New Year occurred last night. Five minutes before the passing of the old year the fire engine bells tolled its requiem. On the stroke of twelve all of the bells and whistles of the city let loose and a large number of merrymakers were on the streets with horns and bells and participated in the revelry which continued for half an hour. Red fire was carried by many of the promenaders Many of the faithful attended watch night services at the different churches and witnessed the birth of the New Year in prayer. The crowds on the streets in point of number were far less than in any previous year.

A number of Alexandrians attended New Year celebrations at Washington hotels.

PALMER'S STATEMENT

Attorney General Hot on Trail of "Reds"—Will Not Tolerate Spread of Their Doctrines

With a request that the people of the United States on New Year Day resolve to study, understand and appreciate the so-called "Red" movement, Attorney General Palmer last night issued a statement making it plain that the Department of Justice would not tolerate the spread of Lenine-Trotsky doctrines in this country.

Terming Bolshevism, Sovietism, Syndicalism and sabotage distinctly criminal and dishonest movements which bear new names for old theories of violence and criminality, the Attorney General declared that the forthcoming year would see an unflinching and aggressive campaign against the promulgation of these ideas. He said that the sympathizers in this country are chiefly criminals, mistaken idealists, social bigots and many unfortunate men and women suffering with "varying forms of hyperesthesia."

RECORD OF PROGRESS MADE DURING 1919

Alexandria Had a Prosperous Year in Every Line

FIVE SHIPS COMPLETED

Naval Torpedo Station Costing $1,300,000 Erected—Housing Corporation Organized—1920 Prospects

All previous years for general prosperity were broken in 1919 by Alexandria. Business has boomed beyond the expectations of the most sanguine and has gone forward steadily. The activity and progress made has been of a solid kind and places Alexandria in the list of live bustling wide awake cities of the state

The prosperity here during the past year has not been confined to any particular class of business, but on the other hand has been general. Wholesale and retail dealers reported an unprecedented volume of business, and wage earners report better pay and employment in every endeavor.

There has been no idleness on the part of Alexandrians. Everyone capable both men, women and children, have worked during the past year and the result is apparent. Practically all of her citizens are far more prosperous than they were during the past year. But comparatively few cases of actual poverty have been reported and those that were was due in a large measure to the fact that the persons were aged or incapacitated.

One of the big things accomplished during the year was the completion of the United States Naval Torpedo Station here on the river front at a cost of $1,300,000. This plant will give employment after it is in full operation from 600 to 1,500 highly skilled mechanics. It occupies 300,000 square feet of floor space.

For the accommodation of the mechanics who will be employed at this plant the Alexandria Real Estate and Investment Corporation has been organized and this corporation proposes to erect a large number of modern houses which are to be sold to employees of this plant. This it is believed, will relieve the present house shortage now existing here. The corporation already has collected forty per cent of the installments for the fund from the subscribers. Later the corporation may be in a position to erect many more houses.

With the Naval Torpedo Station soon in full swing and with the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation giving employment to about 2,500 men Alexandria has two big institutions to say nothing of the smaller manufacturing industries and the hundreds of railroad employees living here.

That Alexandria will advance during the year is the opinion of bankers merchants and others.

During the past year the real estate sales have been unparalelled Many valuable pieces of business property changed hands, and hundreds of dwelling houses in every part of the city. The majority of the purchasers were persons who will reside in the houses. Alexandria, therefore, is rapidly becoming a city of home owners and this is evidenced by the large number of citizens who have just paid their capitation taxes, the number being 2,250.

Ships launched by the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation during the year numbered five, all of which vessels are now in service. They follow: Gunston Hall, February 27; Betsy Bell, May 24; Vanada, June 21; Chancook, afterward named H. F. Morse, August 9; Edwin A. Morse, October, 25.

City councilman during the year appropriated $100,000 for school and improvement funds and a handsome school building for colored boys and girls is now under construction.

The sum of $17,000 was appropriated to complete the motorization of the city fire department.

The Alexandria Water company, a private corporation, completed its filtration plant during the year.

The city established a modern health department in charge of Dr. L. E. Foulks and during the year a free clinic was established.

A community service was established here following the departure of the War Camp Community Service. A post of the American Legion and the Women's American Legion were established.

Many drives were successfully put over in this city during 1919, including Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, Syrian-Armenian Relief, Campaign for Children's Home of Virginia, Jewish Relief, Red Cross, and three churches, the Baptist, Episcopalians and Methodists also had drives.

Alexandria also had a home coming for the soldiers known as the Welcome Home Week held June 8-14 which was a big success.

This city is rapidly becoming a convention city, several state organizations having met here during the year among them being the Virginia State Federation of Labor, Travelers' Protective Association, Macabees, Daughters of the American Revolution. A chatuaqua also was held here in July and plans are now under way for the establishment of a non-equipment Y. M. C. A.

Every agency of the city is working hard to help Alexandria grow The Chamber of Commerce, the city council and the business men in general are all in one accord on this proposition and bigger things are looked for during the coming year.

The slogan for 1920 will be a "bigger, better and busier Alexandria."

FRANKLIN-WILSON WEDDING

A wedding of interest to a number of Alexandrians was that of Miss Carol Van Antwerp Wilson and Joseph Harris Franklin, which took place at 11.30 a. m, yesterday in Trinity Episcopal Church, Upper Marlboro, Md. The bride is the daughter of the late Joseph A. Wilson, at one time Democratic State Senator from Prince Georges county, Maryland, and a granddaughter of Mrs. Caroline Van Antwerp Clagett, with whom she has made her home.

Miss Jeanette Yates Cochran, of this city, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and other attendants were Mrs. E. Brooke Lee, matron of honor Miss May Inglehart, Miss Grace Roberts, Mrs. Harold Sasscer and Mrs. Joseph Addison. Dr. Edmund Franklin, of Washington, was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Messers. Murdaugh, McCandlish James Ellison and Edmund Ellison cousins of the groom.

Mr. Shermar B. Fowler, organist of St. Paul's Church, this city, of which Mr. Franklin was a member while resident here, played the wedding march.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. E. Brooke Lee, at Silver Spring, Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Bruce Fowler of this city were among the guests at the wedding and reception.

WILSON'S CONDITION

Many Significant Observations Made in Washington

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer sends the following to that paper:

"Over three months have elapsed since President Wilson canceled the last days of his swing around the circle and returned to Washington because of illness and today there is almost as little known about his real condition or the exact nature of his ailment as when he first retired behind the veil of secretary that envelope the White House.

"The question as to the President's condition will not down in Washington, and once more the rumors which were for the moment checked as a result of the interview granted to the Senators seeking information on the Mexican situation are again reviving. The President was 63 years old on Sunday and his health was never robust. It is manifest, however, that there is much more the matter with Mr Wilson that his physicians have reported to the public.

"It is a notable fact that the President has not yet been even permitted to go for a ride in an automobile, which was formerly one of his favorite forms of relaxation."

BLINDNESS INCURABLE

"Blindness, caused by drinking wood alcohol is incurable" says an official of the New York Association for the Blind, adding.

"In my eight years of experience with the association I have known of but one case where the victim of wood alcohol poisoning recovered his sight. In that case the patient was placed under treatment only a few hours after drinking the stuff. His case, however, was peculiar in many ways and cannot be considered in the ordinary category."

There is nothing new in the effect of wood alcohol upon the eyesight, he stated, occasional cases having been recorded for many years past. The only thing astonishing about the effect at this time, he said, was the tremendous increase in the number of persons blinded.

THE GAZETTE IN 1920.

According to the date line on the first page of the Gazette, this paper begins its 136th volume today. It is in reality its 137th volume as we know now that the Alexandria Gazette was an institution in 1783.

In writing the history of this paper on January 1, 1900, its birth was seen to be lost in the dim past. The first reference to the Alexandria Gazette is in a minute of the Fairfax County Court in the year 1784, when Alexandria was the tail of that county's kite. The minute ordered a certain legal advertisement to be published in the Alexandria Gazette. This was as far back as the history of the paper could be traced; hence we state in each issue that the paper was founded that year.

About a year ago a lady residing on South Alfred street called us on the telephone and stated that should a representative call at her home she would exhibit a copy of the Gazette dated in 1788, the year it was founded. A call was made upon the lady and she loaned the paper to us, which The Gazette stands eighth in the we described at the time.
list of papers published in the United States during colonial days and those immediately succeeding the war for independence.

Many of its early contemporaries in the United States have long since died, one which had been printed since 1808 having suspended publication a few months ago.

The Gazette, as will be seen, has flourished in three centuries, and in the year 1920 is still giving the "news of the day, its form and pressure." The circulation has increased greatly during the past few years while the demands of advertisers upon its columns have been greater than at any time in its history.

The Gazette has kept pace with the rapid increase in Alexandria's population, and the paper is not only regarded as an essential in the homes of those native and to the manner born, but hundreds of our new citizens enjoy perusing its columns also.

We wish all our readers A Happy and Prosperous New Year.

HOLIDAY SEASON OF 1919-1920

The setting of to-day's sun will mark the close of the holiday season probably the most tranquil in Alexandria since the close of the war between the states. During that period there was little outdoor demonstration, but the Christmas of the year 1865, after hostilities had ceased, was marred by the historic Christmas riots a race war which lasted but a day One colored man was killed on the occasion.

Christmas Day one week ago was remarkably serene, more so than a Sunday. During days preceding and following that festival the Police Court was without a docket. This speaks well for a city now thought to number 25,000 or 30,000 souls composed of many nationalities, as we have among us today people of nearly all climes.

As the old year was being tolled out last night and its successor welcomed explosions were frequent in many quarters of the city. They were from saluting pistols generally. The temperature was mild and the streets swarmed with humanity, while there were gatherings of marrymakers in many homes. But no disorders were reported, and another clear docket was in evidence in the Police Court this morning.

May the song of the angels—"Peace on earth good will to men"—animate all in the year which we enter today.

Happy New Year

No New Year was ever so rife with possibilities and opportunities. Great things are before us, and the world has been schooled to embrace them.

The ravages of war have been left behind us; the momentous events and the constructive work which followed have equipped us to step forward calmly—certain of the better things which await us.

The foundation has been laid. Mankind is ready and eager to complete the structure of peace and progress—a structure, the equal of which the world has never known.

Let us all go forward in determination and confidence. 1920 is pre-ordained a year of enduring achievement.

The Reason
For the Roycroft

The Roycroft is built around the idea that discriminating women want a shop personal in service with quality garments exclusive in design so moderate in price as to be well within what the average woman can afford to pay for lingerie, negligee, hose and hats of refinement.

Hand-made hats in my shop are exclusive and made especially for me by Miss Tryon in her Greenwich Village shop among New York's artist colony.

My resident buyer in New York is at your service at no additional cost to you.

The Roycroft is the personal shop with a purpose: don't you think it fulfills its mission

Your attention is called to the fact that probably ninety per cent of the buyers come to my office to inquire about the purchase of property. I am a persistant advertiser, and in addition, I, and my assistants are constantly on the lookout for purchasers.

"Know How" is just as necessary in this, as in any other line of business, and I am amply able to refer you to owners whose property I have disposed of to convince you that I do know how. Therefore, it is evidently to your great interest to list your properties with me.
